

A black zippered tool kit is shown open, revealing a collection of tools neatly arranged in a black foam-lined interior. The tools include a screwdriver with a black handle and a silver shaft, a pair of pliers with black handles and silver jaws, a wrench with a silver head and a black handle, and a set of hex keys (Allen keys) of various sizes. There are also several small screws and a small metal tool. The kit is branded with the name "MATADOR" on the pliers and the hex key set. The kit is shown from a top-down perspective, highlighting the organized layout of the tools.
